MR. WHERE TEACHES DRAMA AT MONSTER HIGH.
FILL IN THE BLANKS TO GET A FUNNY STORY ABOUT THE DAY
HE HELD AUDITIONS FOR THE SCHOOL PLAY!

HOW IT WORKS

1. Player 1 asks for words (for example, a noun or a verb).
2. Player 2 makes up the words without knowing the story.
3. Player 1 writes in the words, then reads the story out loud.

AUDITION DAY

One _____ (adjective) afternoon, Mr. Where held auditions for the school play. Between Cleo de Nile™ and Clawdeen Wolf™, he knew the competition would be _____ (adjective)!

Clawdeen really wanted the lead. She wore her lucky _____ (article of clothing) and made sure to _____ (verb) for hours! She was so nervous that even her _____ (part of the body) started to sweat!

Cleo de Nile was just as determined to land the starring role. She fueled up by eating plenty of _____ (kind of food) and brought her pet _____ (kind of animal) along for moral support.

Clawdeen tried to distract Cleo by _____ (verb that ends in "ing") during her audition. Cleo was so mad that her face turned _____ (color). She dumped a giant jar of _____ (plural noun) on stage while Clawdeen was trying to perform!

"Knock it off!" shouted Mr. Where. "You're both acting like _____ (number) year-olds!"

The only person who kept her cool was Draculaura. As soon as she started to _____ (verb), the room fell silent.

Mr. Where was so relieved. "Bravo!" he smiled. "You're exactly the kind of _____ (noun) I've been looking for!"

Sure enough, Draculaura wowed the crowd on opening night. Even Cleo and Clawdeen had to admit her performance was totally _____ (adjective)!
